

THE CHRONICLE

Provincial Library
Edmonton

VOL. VII. NO. 39.

CROSSFIELD ALBERTA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22nd, 1914.

PRICE $1 A YEAR.

LAUT BROS.

Apples! Apples!!

NOW is the time to lay in your stock of fall and winter apples.

We will have on the track on Saturday, October 24th, a Car of APPLES containing the following varieties :---

- | | | |
|-------|--|----------------|
| No. 1 | { JONATHANS
KINGS
HUBBARDSONS
BALDWINS
GREENINGS } | $1.50 per box |
| No. 2 | { ONTARIO RED
WAGNERS } | $1.25 per box |

No. 1 varieties are choice, selected, late keeping, wrapped apples and will be as fine as anything we have ever offered in Crossfield.

The No. 2 are orchard run, loose packs, in large crates, and for fall use cannot be excelled.

This is the best apple deal we have ever offered our customers—buy them in tens and twenties while they are cheap—phone your orders.

Saturday Cash Price No. $1.50, No. $1.25.

Laut Brothers, HARDWARE & GROCERIES.

Local and General

The Rev. T. E. Armstrong, B.A., of Carstairs, will officiate in the Union Church, Crossfield, on Sunday evening, also taking Beaver Dam in the morning and Sunshine in the afternoon. Mr. Berry will go to Carstairs.

Messrs. Bray, Ontkes and Ledingham took a trip to Drumheller on Thursday in Mr. Ontkes car on business.

Mrs. Frank Laut's father from Ontario, is on a visit to Crossfield.

Mrs. (Capt.) N. J. Wigle who has had quite a severe illness is slowly improving.

The Washington Alberta Land Co. shipped a car load of hogs to Calgary on Wednesday.

Ontkes and Thomas shipped a car of hogs to Calgary on Thursday.

Eleven cars of hay were shipped from Crossfield this week.

The Crossfield School children are giving a concert in the I.O.O.F. Hall, on Friday evening, October 30th. Choruses, Recitations, Hallelu'e'n drills, Pianoforte Solos and Duets, Song by local talent, also a Hallowe'en Farce by the High School pupils and others. Part of the proceeds for the Patriotic Fund. Everybody come and have a night's entertainment and help a good cause.

Get your apples at Halliday's $1.10 per box, choice eating and cooking varieties.

$500 cash handles 100 acre Farm well improved with buildings, etc. Ten years plan. 6 per cent. interest, and only 4 1/2 miles from town. Write or call for further particulars. CHAS. HULTGREN.

The ladies of the Abernethy School District held a meeting at the school last Friday afternoon to arrange about an entertainment in aid of relief work. After considerable discussion, it was proposed by Mrs. Robertson, supported by Miss Jessie Ross, Mrs. Bill and Mrs. Smith to hold a grand Entertainment, supper and dance, on the evening of Friday, October 30th. A collection to be taken in aid of the Patriotic Fund. A cordial invitation is issued to all.

A Public Meeting is called for the Rural Municipality of Rosebud, No. 280, for the discussion of Municipal affairs, on Saturday, October 31st, in the Tan-y-Bryn Schoolhouse, at 2 p.m. By order of David Pearson, Reeve.

We have a number of clients wanting to rent Farms in the Crossfield and Carstairs districts. If you want to secure a good tenant for your Farm send a full description of land and buildings, amount in cultivation, water, fencing, terms, etc., to Hays Brothers, Carstairs, Alberta.

REMEMBER THE DATE.
Dr. H. Jackson, Dentist, makes as usual his weekly visit on Wednesdays to Crossfield, and may be consulted at the Alberta Hotel. All modern and up-to-date methods used.

If you want to Sell your Land, List it with me at once I Have numerous enquiries.

If you require to renew your old Loan or take out a new one, call and see me, as I can save you money. I represent The Canada Life, and others.

Chas. Hultgren.

Fine Weather!

Yes, it certainly is warm during the day, but towards evening does it not get cold out your way.

BUY AN

OIL HEATER,

Price $5.00

Just the thing to take the Chill off that Sitting Room, and if asked to do it will heat a good-sized room in the coldest weather.

BEFORE BUYING

See our complete showing of

COAL HEATERS

including the now celebrated

FiReCo Line.

Its a Hummer and a Fuel Saver.

W. McRory & Sons,

HARDWARE SPECIALISTS AND HEATING EXPERTS.

THE APPAREL SERVICE CO.

Ladies' and Gents' Clothes
CLEANED AND PRESSED
and Repaired on the Shortest Notice.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

ALL KINDS OF

DRESSMAKING & MILLINERY

Undertaken. Give us a trial we will do the rest.
WM. M. CAPPS.

Next door to Mrs. Stevens Store.

FARMERS MEAT MARKET.

Under New Management

GEO. McLEOD, Proprietor.

W. TIMS, Manager.

Best prices paid for all kinds of Live Stock. We also handle Butter and Eggs. Try our Noted Home made Sausage and Kettle rendered Lard.

And a Special Line of Home Cured HAMS & BACON

If we Suit You Tell Your Friends. If Not Tell Us.

Our Motto: Quality and Prices right.

Crossfield,

Alta.

GIVE "THE CHRONICLE" A TRIAL

ALL KINDS OF JOBWORK

Done on the Shortest Notice

LETTERHEADS ENVELOPES

STATEMENTS BILLHEADS

DANCE PROGRAMS SALE BILLS

In fact, any class of

PRINTING

THE HOME PRINTERY

CROSSFIELD.

Machinery and Repairs.

Deering & McCormick Lines

At W. Stuart Lumber Yard Stand.

Dealers in Live Stock

D. ONTKES and

PHONE No. 11

A. R. THOMAS.

What's The Use

Of waiting for the middle of Winter, it sure will come. You might just as well get busy now, right at the beginning of the season and buy warm wearables, stocks are more complete for styles and sizes.

FUR COATS :--

You'll find the quality of the fur used and the workmanship as good as any coat made in Canada.

Genuine Wallaby, natural color, 52 inches long, splendidly lined, high shawl collar, regular $54.00 coat, Special $45.00

Beautiful Black Curl Russian Lamb, high shawl collar, is a regular $38 coat, to the early buyer. Special $32.50

A Splendid Dark Brown Seal Coat, regular $35.00 value, to the early buyer. Special $30.00

Who Wants a Genuine COON COAT ?
We have one here that is cheap at $125.00.

The first man that comes along with $90 takes it.
Would be worth $150.00 to buy to-day.

Satisfactory Store.
Your Money Back If
You Want It.

Who Makes

Your Clothes ?

Have you ever tried "CAMPBELL'S" Made to Order. There are scores of satisfied men around Crossfield who have had their Clothes made by Campbell for years. Don't you want to be one of them ?

The New

Fall Samples

For Suits, Overcoats, and Pants are here--won't you step in and let us show you ?--Fit guaranteed or no sale.

Caps are an absolute necessity in this climate--Why not get an "EASTERN CAP" now while the getting is good.
Men's sizes - - $1.00 and up

Apples :--

Choice Winter Apples,
Jonathans, Baldwins, Spitz,
Wagners and others.

Per Box - - $1.10

Sheepskin

Jackets :--

Cheaper here than it costs to make them. We have too large a stock, that's the reason.

Children's Shoes :--

Tan and Patent Cloth Shoes for Girls, cheaper than Bankrupt Store prices. It will pay you to shoe the children here.

We Are Always Glad To Show You.
Come in & look us over

Halliday's

CROSSFIELD.

Council Meetings

The council of the Village of Crossfield will meet in the Council Chamber over Fire Hall on the first Monday of each month, commencing with February at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m.

By Order of the Village Council
S. 52-4 W. McRory, Sec.-Treas.

Lodge Cards.

CROSSFIELD LODGE I. O. O. F.

No. 42
Meets Every Wednesday Night in the Oddfellows Hall at 8 p.m.
Visiting Brethren Welcome.
A. JESSIMAN, S. COLLINS,
Fin. Sec'y. Rec.-Sec'y.

Crossfield School District No. 752

The REGULAR MEETINGS of the above school Board will be held at the school House at 10 a. m. on the first Saturday in the following months: January, March, May, July, September and November.
All matters of business pertaining to this district will be attended to at this meeting.

The office of the Sec.-Treas. is in the Hardware Store next door to the Chronicle.
A. R. Thomas, Chairman.
E. S. McRory, Sec.-Treas.

Farm Wanted.

FARM WANTED in Exchange for Horses (rented), Lard and Oil. Shares. No High Prices. Apply owner
McKAY,
300, 13th Avenue W., Calgary.

For Sale.

FOR SALE--Bedroom Dresser and Certe Table, practically new. Finished in Golden Oak. For price and further particulars, enquire of E. S. McRORY.

FOR SALE--A "CAPITAL" CREAM SEPARATOR, and BARREL CHURN. Price Reasonable. Apply Chronicle Office.

THE FARMERS' HARNESS STORE.
Will exchange some Harness and Harness Sundries for Cattle or Hogs. For particulars write or phone.
E. B. SHANTZ,
Carstairs, Alberta.

CROSSFIELD LOCAL & GENERAL.

Geo. McLeod shipped two car of cattle to Calgary this week.

Mr. E. G. Morgan his wife and mother from Calgary, are on a visit to Mrs. E. E. Edwards.

J. S. Abra, from Medicine Hat, who is taking the Overby's place arrived in Crossfield this week with two car load of settler's effects.

The Provincial Government in response to a petition for Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic in the province and signed by 23,000 electors, has decided to submit the question to the people, which on a majority vote becomes law. This is the first attempt in Canada to use this principle of direct legislation.

"If there four flies on the table and I killed one, how many would be left ?" inquired a teacher.
"One," answered a bright little "the dead one."

Teacher: "Can you name a bird that is now extinct ?"
Small Pupil: "Yes, ma'am: our canary. The cat extinted him yesterday."

ESTRAY.

Grey Four Year Old MARE, about 1,700 lbs. Branded 2 on front hoof and T2 on right side of neck.

Reward for information as to its whereabouts.
WASHINGTON ALBERTA LARD CO.,
LLD., CROSSFIELD.

6% MONEY 6% Money 6%

LOANS may be obtained for any purpose on acceptable Real Estate security, liberal privileges. Correspondence solicited.

A. C. Agency Company,
758 Gas, Electric Building,
Denver, Colo.

DISTRICT COURT SITTINGS FOR 1915.

SITTINGS OF THE DISTRICT COURT and of the DISTRICT JUDGES' CRIMINAL COURT will be held within the Judicial District of Calgary on the dates and at the places following during the year 1915:--

CALGARY, Commencing:--

Monday, January 18th.
Monday, February 15th.
Monday, March 15th.
Monday, April 19th.
Monday, May 17th.
Monday, June 14th.
Monday, September 20th.
Monday, October 18th.
Monday, November 15th.
Monday, December 6th.

DIDSBURY:--

Wednesday, June 10th.
Wednesday, October 6th.
Wednesday, December 1st.

CAIRSTAIRS:--

Thursday, March 11th.
Thursday, June 10th.
Thursday, October 7th.
Thursday, December 2nd.

COCHRANE:--

Thursday, February 25th.
Thursday, May 27th.
Tuesday, August 31st.
Thursday, November 23th.

BANFF:--

Friday, February 26th.
Friday, May 28th.
Friday, September 3rd.
Friday, November 20th.

OKOTOKS:--

Thursday, January 7th.
Tuesday, April 6th.
Wednesday, September 1st.

Thursday, October 29th.

HIGH RIVER:--

Friday, January 8th.
Wednesday, April 7th.
Thursday, September 2nd.

Friday, October 20th.

OLDS:--

Monday, March 8th.
Monday, June 7th.
Monday, October 4th.
Monday, November 29th.

CROSSFIELD:--

Friday, March 12th.
Friday, June 11th.
Friday, October 8th.
Friday, December 3rd.

GLEICHES:--

Wednesday, January 13th.
Wednesday, April 14th.
Wednesday, September 15th.

STRATHMORE:--

Monday, January 11th.
Monday, April 12th.
Monday, September 13th.

LANGDON:--

Tuesday, January 12th.
Tuesday, April 13th.
Tuesday, September 14th.

ACME:--

Thursday, April 29th.
Thursday, October 14th.

BASSANO:--

Thursday, January 14th.
Thursday, April 15th.
Thursday, September 15th.

HANNA:--

Wednesday, May 12th.
Wednesday, October 13th.
Dated at Edmonton, Alberta, this First day of October, 1914.

J. D. HUNT,
Deputy Attorney General.

An Irishman was sitting in a station smoking when a woman came, and sitting down beside him, remarked:

"Sir, if you were a gentleman you would not smoke here."

"Mum," he said, "if ye wuz a lady ye'd sit further away."

Pretty soon the woman burst out again: "If you were my husband I'd give you poison."

"Well, mum," returned the Irishman as he pulled away at his pipe, "if you were my wife I'd take it."

Little Mary, while visiting in the country, chanced to spy a peacock, a bird she had never seen before, running quickly into the house she cried out: "Oh, gramma, come out and see! There's a big hen in full bloom!"

The most exalted position that any woman can occupy is that of a good wife and a good mother.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties--Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties--Six months' residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties--Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $500.00.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

W. W. CORY, G.M.G.,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.
N.B.--Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

For Sale

For Sale--A SECTION OF UPLAND HAY.--For particulars apply at address A. J. STONE, 4 miles S.W. of Crossfield P.O. Box 144.

Wanted Land and Farm.

Wanted, to buy 1/4 or 1/2 Section if cheap, or will exchange Calgary property for same.

Also want to Rent a Farm on shares. Write to 470-11th St. S.E.
Medicine Hat, Alberta.

The Fainism

By L. T. Meade

Ward, Lock & Co., Limited
London, Melbourne and Toronto

(Continued)

"Lord sacks! I ain't done nothing for her. Hain't she come to me and been the joy and sunshine of my life, and don't she earn her morsel of food and her little bit of a room? You needn't thank me, sirs. It's all the other way round! It's I that have to thank Barbara for being what she is to me. The fact is, sirs, she was recommended to me by one, 'Faithful Tim'."

"Faithful Tim!" exclaimed Mr. Parke.

"The constable on our beat, sir—a great friend of mine. He told her to come to me, and the look of her face and his recommended did the job. I took her in without even waiting for references, though she had given me one—a very good one, too—Miss Lacy, who lives in St. John's Wood."

"And I thought," said Miss Lacy, "I was coming up to see," said Barbara, her voice choking.

"Well, that was to expect, a little manoeuvre on the part of your excellent servant, Mrs. Russell. But Barbara chose to remain away from her best friends; but we have found her now, and, Sunningley will you, the proposition we have just made to her."

"I can easily do that," said Sunningley. "I propose that Barbara, as the daughter of my very dear friend, and my little cousin, should come to live with me as my little companion. If necessary, she will be taken out by my housekeeper, Mrs. Russell, to the young and attractive to walk about London alone. I will provide her with clothes, food and a room, and, I trust, I want to adopt her. Can you see any reason why I should not, Mrs. Russell?"

"Oh! Mrs. Russell," said Barbara, "it's a sore blow to me, but I'll sell—the tears spring to her eyes—but it's a mighty good thing for Barbara."

"And I have been telling her, in order to make her happy," continued Sunningley, "that she can come to me every day to read to Miss Octavia Henslowe, thus earning a little money which she can keep. I think it will make her feel independent. It is really, my dear madam, very wise for the child to come to me. It is exceedingly unwise for her to be here—I have my reasons for knowing this."

"I have my reasons for knowing this," said Sunningley, "and you will work with me in the matter and induce her to accept my offer."

"Accept your offer, sir? Why, of course she'll accept your offer, Barbara, my own daughter, for herself, I break my very heart. But there, I shall see you daily, and there'll be a weight off my mind, and be treated as a lady should be treated. And if you have a housekeeper, sir, she'd best come with Miss Barbara and see her home again, for three are about people round here who have made bad life a misery. After this, I'll put my finger into one pie, and I think I'll square it, but there's no knowing what a pretty little life like Mrs. Russell can undergo in this wicked London."

"Now, then, Barbara, you'll accept. I will come to see you tomorrow and you will tell Miss Octavia that you are going to live with me. Won't you tell her, Barbara? Won't you like to help your father's old friend and cousin?"

"Oh! I can," said Barbara, suddenly. "Mrs. Russell, do you think me very ungrateful."

"No, darling, I think it would be very wicked of you not to go. It is the Lord's direction to take you out of this neighbourhood and away from that wicked man who was doing his best to devour the helpless lamb."

"What wicked man?" said Sunningley in a voice of intense anger.

"One Pettie by name, the less that is said about him the better. I talked to him tonight in the presence of all his shopgirls, and he knew what he will get if he ever insults Miss Barbara again."

"Well, he is not likely to insult her, whoever he is, if she goes out with my housekeeper, Mrs. Gray, and Mrs. Gray will enjoy the way she can't live so very far from here—only in a small house in Dean's Yard."

"Why, that's no way at all," said Mrs. Russell, "and might be repaid if it could. Barbara, you must be anything but more grateful to you, sir, than I can possibly say. There's my poor boy—he'll feel it."

"Your boy? What about him?"

"Well, you see, sir, it's like this. The young lady said she'd like to go to all the world, and for one thing, she takes Dan—who has her very best heart on her, and she's very fond of her—he's taken Dan and she teaches him his lessons, and he's getting up in it, and she's anything but. He will miss her terribly."

"Would it cost much to get some one else to come in and teach your boy his lessons?"

"Oh, sir," cried the astonished woman.

"I should be willing—abundantly willing to do it," said Pettie, "and I can get a young woman who would be glad to receive a little help, and by and by, if you're ever turned out."

W. N. U. 4021

smart fellow, I would take him as a young clerk into my establishment. I would take him without premium—which is an unheard of thing in a place like ours."

"Oh, good Lord, sir! Dan is made for life! He's a clerk, at present, a clerk in a lawyer's office like yours! Barbara, my angel, the good you have in her!"

Thus the two gentlemen left, and it was decided that on the following afternoon Mr. Sunningley was to go for Barbara and convey her to his own house in Dean's Yard."

CHAPTER X

What Barbara's feelings were that night is hard to tell. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

"He didn't want to be a lawyer's clerk—he said to tell me. She was by no means as elated as was Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell's delight was beyond words. She said that all she would continue to see Barbara daily would not miss her so terribly, and I'll have a nice hot cup of tea for you, darling, before you go back to Dean's Yard. Now, darling, you be back again a real girl, and to think of my Dan, my boy, being put into a lawyer's office without a premium! Why, his poor father, dead and gone this many a year, would fairly jump in his grave if he knew such luck was befalling of his only son!"

But when the news was imparted to her by no means in such high spirits—

TESTAMENTS OF SOLDIERS

When the Wills of Tommy Atkins and Jack Tar Are Legal

The Statute in force in Great Britain provides that the wills of soldiers in actual military service, and of sailors, and of seamen in the navy, and of marines, as far as relates to their pay or prize-money must be attested by an officer, and wills made by a seaman in the merchant service must, if made at sea, be attested by a superior officer, and if made on land, by a superintendent of a mercantile marine office, a minister of religion, justice of the peace, or consular or customs officer.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action. The soldiers' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

Under the provisions of law, wills are recognized and attested by officers and sailors' wills are subject to special rules as in most other countries. In Germany there is a provision that the formalities may be relaxed in certain cases, such as imminent death, a prevailing epidemic of disease, and, just recently, the officers of the German warships Goeben and Breslau killed in action.

The effects of seamen, marines and soldiers killed or dying in the British service, are exempt from the regular duty of probate, and are valued at a hundred pounds, they are not probated. In the case of prisoners of war, wills are subject to special regulations.

CANADIAN WOMEN AND THE WAR

Patriotic Organizations That Have Been Formed in the Dominion

When the call to arms for the defence of the British empire sounds from east to west of Canada, it is not the men only who are stirred by the appeal, but the women, too, and wholeheartedly.

When the South African war broke out and Canada responded nobly to the need of the mother country for men, she did not shirk her share, but by encouragement but by raising of money for the relief of the wives and others left behind, by visiting these other women and using influence in many cases to help them, and by sending medical and other supplies to the contingents in South Africa.

Almost immediately after Canada began to have an active part in the South African war the Montreal Herald made the suggestion that a patriotic fund should be started for those in need. It was the idea of the Herald, but it was adopted at once by the Montreal Star, and the larger and wealthier newspaper henceforth conducted the campaign for the fund, which great numbers of women and children contributed.

In October, 1914, Mrs. Hutton, wife of Major-General (now Sir Edward) Hutton, then commanding the Canadian militia, addressed the Ladies' Wives League, under the patronage of Lady Minto, wife of the then governor-general, and of the league was formed to bring the wives of all soldiers in Canada, of every rank, into close touch with the army, and to give aid and assistance in times of distress and difficulty.

Systematic aid was arranged for the families of the men who formed the Canadian contingents in South Africa.

The president of the league was Mrs. Drummond, wife of Major-General (now Sir) Lawrence Drummond, then military secretary to the governor-general, and the secretary was Mrs. Hutton.

In Montreal, Mrs. W. D. Gordon, wife of Colonel Gordon, who himself saw service in South Africa, was one of the first to be elected. Mrs. Mendenhall was secretary. Quebec and Winnipeg also formed branches. It is exceedingly likely that when the Canadians go to the front.

It was in February, 1914, that Mrs. Clark Murray, wife of Professor Clark Murray, of the University of Toronto, the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, with juvenile branches, was organized in the Empire.

From a small beginning, and after a time of eclipse, this society has grown to enormous dimensions. There are chapters all over Canada, and in the United States there are 400,000 British women enrolled under its banner.

A large number of women were enrolled in the British Red Cross Society. This was organized in 1887 by Lady George Stirling, daughter of Sir George Stirling, M.D., of Toronto, and was the first colonial branch of the society in any country. It will be remembered that during the war Dr. Ryerson acted as British Red Cross Commissioner in South Africa, and great many branches were formed in Canada, chiefly in the provinces of Ontario and Ontario. Women's committees worked industriously, sending supplies to the soldiers, and doing other good work.

The society was to be seen worn by such well-known Montreal women as Mrs. A. J. Ryan, Mrs. Dr. Ryerson, Mrs. Mendenhall, and Mrs. Mendenhall, and Miss Roddick, sister of Sir Thomas Roddick, who were active in the work of the society.

If the women of Canada were really then, there is every evidence that they were, and that they will find them even better equipped, and as enthusiastic, in their efforts to do their share, in their own way towards helping the empire.

Mary Macdonald Moore (published in "Canada").

Two washerwomen were one day talking of the progress made by their various ladies in their chosen work.

"Tell me, Mrs. Casey," asked Mrs. Clancy, "what's your son John doing now?"

"John's on the stage—he's a light comedian," answered Mrs. Casey.

"You don't tell me!" exclaimed Mrs. Clancy. "Ah! would you mind telling me what a light comedian is?"

"Well," explained Mrs. Casey, "he's a man who plays a silent part behind the black curtain with his mouth in his hole, and from a candle, and when Alkali Al shoots at the candle John blows it out."

"Mrs. Tom, please come to dinner early to-morrow night. I want to get it to a funeral."

"All right, Aunt Hannah. Which would you like, go to the funeral or a wedding?"

"Why, Marce Tom, cos I'd rather go to a funeral if I can get to see any friends,"—Harper's Magazine.

"There's a machine that can be graduated to measure the millilith part of an inch."

"There's a machine that can be graduated to measure the millilith part of an

Just a Word in Your Ear!

That word is LUMBER. You're going to need some, either right now or later on, and when you do, you want to know where's the best place to get it.

The end of your search for the best Lumber is here if you visit us last. If you visit us first, your search ends before beginning.

And just another word in your ear. This time it's RELIABILITY—the foundation of every successful business. When you buy Lumber or Building Material you like to buy with a knowledge that the goods are all that are claimed for them.

That is just your assurance when you buy Lumber and Building Material here.

YOURS FOR BUSINESS
ATLAS LUMBER Co. Ltd.
CROSSFIELD.
J. S. JOSE, Local Manager.

CHAS. HULTGREN

Notary Public and Commissioner for taking Affidavits

Conveyancing of all kinds of Legal Papers such as TRANSFERS, MORTGAGES, AGREEMENTS OF SALE, LEASES,

Drawing up of WILLS. Etc. Etc.

INSURANCE and LOANS my Speciality.

Houses For Rent and Rents Collected

CHAS. HULTGREN, Crossfield

Ivor Lewis

Sole Agent for the Famous

GALT COAL

Hard Coal and Briquettes always on hand.

Fire Wood. Draying.

Crossfield, Alberta

Farmers Repair

Shop

Special Attention Given to BLACKSMITHING.

Blacksmith's Coal for Sale.

PRICES RIGHT

ALEX JESSIMAN, - Prop.

CROSSFIELD BOOT HOSPITAL

BOOT & SHOE
REPAIRING
Charges Moderate.
Good Workmanship.
English Leather.

Next Door to Mrs. Stevens

W. STOCK,

(Dr. Bill)

Have YOU Paid your
Subscription for 1914?

If not

WHY NOT?

The Crossfield Chronicle

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES. $1.00 per year in advance; or $1.50 if not paid in advance.

PUBLISHED at the Chronicle office, at Crossfield, Alberta, each Friday.

RAVES

Business locals, 10 cents per line first insertion; and 5 cents per line each subsequent insertion.

Legal advertisements, 15 cents per line for first insertion; and 8 cents each subsequent insertion.

Commercial contract rates upon application.

ROBERT WHITFIELD,
PRINTER AND PUBLISHER.

CROSSFIELD, ALTA., OCT. 22, 1914.

Alberta Cattle Sell Well in Toronto.

From the Toronto press there comes the information that on Oct. 6th there were sold at the Union Stock Yards of Toronto, by H. P. Kennedy and Co., Commission Salesmen, to the Toronto Fowler Canadian Company, a carload of Alberta cattle for $8.50 per cwt. In commenting upon same the press state that they were a fine sample of the kind of cattle that Alberta is capable of producing, and were said to be as fine a load as have been seen on the market during the present year. While the price was not the highest for the season it was the top price paid on that day.

The same report states that the firm of H. P. Kennedy and Co., sold Alberta butcher cattle as high as 6 1/2c. With feed as plentiful as it now is throughout the central portion of this province stocker cattle should not be going eastward.

Marketing of Hogs.

The Alberta Live Stock Association, through their secretary are sending out a circular, we give a portion of same. "It appears that there is considerable loss in connection with the marketing of hogs as a result of their being bruised through rough handling before they reach the packer. In some cases this loss amounts to $800 or $900 a car, and as it is impossible to tell which hogs have been bruised or pounded, it is obvious that the packer will have to protect himself by reducing the price on all hogs to cover the loss on about 30 per cent of the hogs which are ill-treated. This is a very serious matter for the farmers of Alberta."

Major R. L. Boyle Placed in Command Of 10th Division.

Major R. L. Boyle of A Squadron, 15th Light Horse, Calgary, so impressed the powers that were at the camp with his ability in the handling of troops, that to-day he is a full fledged lieutenant-colonel, and commander of the 10th division of the first Canadian expeditionary force at Salisbury Plain. His is one of the rare cases where promotion has awaited him at the end of the journey, in the majority of cases commissioned officers losing rather than gaining rank.

It was no surprise to his friends that he happened to be placed in charge of a command. He had valuable experience gained in the South African campaign, was always a stern disciplinarian, and turned out one of the crack squadrons of the 15th Light Horse. While the tent was towards the cavalry, he did not let his hobby interfere with the call to duty, and attached himself willingly to an infantry regiment.

"He was one of the best men the 15th had," commented Lt.-Col. Macdonald when apprised of his promotion. "We are sorry to lose him, but we are all glad to know he is getting along so well."

Turkeys, Ducks, Geese, Fowl and Chicken Wanted, Alive or Dressed.

Now the weather is cool, it is quite safe to ship your poultry dressed. In fact we prefer to receive Spring Chicken and Turkeys dressed. Ducks, Geese and Fowl alive. About Turkeys—Most people think that Christmas time is the best time to market Turkeys and as a result, now that the production of poultry in Alberta is large, there is a Christmas glut and prices drop. Avoid this by marketing your Turkeys early, as soon as they are in marketable condition. We are paying high prices now. We also buy Eggs, Pigeons and Rabbits, wild or tame.

If you have dressed pork to market, ship to us. We will get you Calgary prices, charging the small commission of 5 per cent. Write for Prices.

Pearless Poultry and Produce Co. Ltd.
8th STREET EAST, CALGARY.

Lower Prices on Ford Cars

Effective August 1st, 1914, to August 1st, 1915, and guaranteed against any reduction during that time. All cars fully equipped f.o.b. Ford, Ont.

Runabout	-	$540
Touring Car	-	590
Town Car	-	840

(In the Dominion of Canada only).

BUYERS TO SHARE IN PROFITS

All retail buyers of new Ford Cars from August 1st, 1914, to August 1st, 1915, will share in the profits of the company to the extent of $40 to $60 per car, on each car they buy, PROVIDED: We sell and deliver 30,000 new Ford Cars during that period.

Ask for particulars from LESLIE FARR, Airdrie.

Our Private
GREETING
CARDS for
Christmas, 1914,
Are Now In.
Call to see them.

"MADE-IN-WINNIPEG"

Simple Maxims Which Every Western
Community Can Adopt For Its Use.

During the "Made-in-Winnipeg" week, organized by the enterprising Industrial Commissioner of the Western metropolises in May last, many "slogans" were used with good results by the keen business men of Winnipeg, whose cooperation made the exhibition such a huge success.

The following are a few mottoes which can be adopted with slight change for use in every Western community:

"It isn't always the sky-scraper that makes the city. A factory with a big payroll will do twice as much."

Become impressed with the real, true downright duty you owe your city in patronizing home industry. After all is said and done, the full dinner-pail is the prosperity sign of a live city.

Winnipeg believes self-preservation to be the first law of nature, and therefore welcomes the "Made in Winnipeg" Week, advocating home industries, the first law of a city's solid development.

Winnipeg believes that no city can continue growth upon a sound foundation without industry. It is the city of manufacturing that forges ahead.

Winnipeg knows that the way to build up a local industry is to buy of its wares. It is a duty citizens owe to the community. Buy the product of home labor, home capital and home industry.

Winnipeg realizes that there are eighteen thousand people employed in manufacturing goods right here in the city, and that if we can double the number and have the money that these people earn spent right here, it goes to help the prosperity of all.

Winnipeg knows that the purchase of every $1,000. of goods, "Made in Winnipeg" instead of purchasing outside, means the addition of one person to the city instead of supporting him elsewhere.

"Anything that is produced in Canada from Canadian materials, by the application of Canadian brain and labor, will always have first call with me. And it's only good business on my part that it should."